For those who want more practical experience - more than just a taste of what fashion has to offer.

You'll get it here at Whitecliffe.

Our Certificate in Apparel and Fashion Technology is where you roll your sleeves up and then start making them. It is a comprehensive introduction into garment-construction which builds, broadens and deepens your knowledge.

It is for those who want the technical craft and skills to bring their creative vision to life. Who want expression with expertise.

You'll be based in our studio learning what it means to build something from scratch. Pattern making, fabric selection, sewing, finishing, problem-solving.

Working and surrounded by the tools, resources and equipment of the industry, alongside experienced and knowledgeable faculty, and with friends who want to make as much as you do.

This year long programme is about turning your ideas into patterns, patterns into blocks and blocks into garments. It is about learning the language of the fashion industry - spec sheets, sketches, how design communicates - and also having the craft needed to produce them. The satisfaction of seeing something come together properly.

To make it.

If you're thinking about going further - diploma or degree or straight into a job-you'll know what it takes and that you have those skills.

No drama, no empty promises.

If you'd like more information please visit our website or pick up our prospectus. You can also give us a call to have any questions and even arrange a tour of our campuses and studios.

If you want to be someone who makes, this is where you begin.
