But you know the truth: it has to begin somewhere. With a spark of inspiration perhaps. With raw metal and steady hands. With a willingness to make a start.

This is where your journey starts. Here, in the workshop, where your ideas take shape.

Where you'll learn to measure, saw, solder, and set, watching your vision move from sketch to shining form. There are no exams - just the honest evidence of your work, building into a portfolio that tells your story as a maker.

You could be returning to education. Or fresh out of school. Stepping into the world of jewellery for the first time or searching for where you fit in the creative landscape. Here you'll find the steps towards Aotearoa's only degree Jewellery programme.

You'll work with traditional materials, guided by tutors who know their craft and the culture. You'll discover how jewellery connects to history, to contemporary trends, and to the stories of place - incorporating Māori and Pasifika influences with care and respect. Safe, ethical practice is part of the art.

This is a space for precision and for play. For problem-solving and for finding your own style.

Come in for a chat - give us a call - talk to our expert tutors. Visit our website for more details.

It is where you'll find your starting point.
